Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.

3,400

copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

There is a lesson in the death of that Rutland girl for those youngsters who have a propensity for carrying rope-skipping to excess. It is a dangerous practice.

Bacon wrote: Adversity is not without its comforts and hopes. That sentiment may have inspired the Robins men who celebrated their defeat last evening.

The race issue question apparently did not cut much of a figure in the giving out of liquor licenses in Montpelier yesterday.

The common salutation on Main street nowadays might well be, "Dust thou are and dust you will always be if you don't hurry out those street sprinklers."

Three determined looking men left the City Hall this forenoon, well armed and prepared for emergency. They were the city assessors. Their task is a hard one, and the taxpayers can assist them materially.

There appears to be the need of long distance communication between "Spotter" Wilson and his attorneys. Perhaps a reason that Wilson is not satisfied with a thousand dollars from Clement is that he hasn't got it yet. The check is still unsigned by P. W. C.

Since the organization of Montpelier as a town in 1791, there have been 3,107 marriages, 4,290 births and 3,038 deaths. It is up to Barre now to match these figures.—Waterbury Record.

Which? The deaths or the "worse than deaths"? We know that Montpelier isn't in it with Barre on births.

A Rutland pastor found a gift in the shape of a certified check for eight hundred dollars waiting for him when he returned from a vacation tour. What a different homecoming do the most of us have! It's generally bills, bills, bills, and the music of the band is "Pay-up, pay-up, pay-up," until we are lured into troubled slumber.

The village of Northfield is taking time by the forelock in laying the foundation now for a village water system, and the action of the citizens there is foresighted. If the village grows as it is expected to grow, there will be increasing necessity for a municipal system, and in making this start the citizens have simply anticipated that necessity.

Arabia.

Arabia has the reputation of being one of the hottest and unhealthiest regions on the globe, but all northern Arabia has a winter season, with cold rains and occasional frosts.

Tough Meat.

The best and most economical way to cook tough meat is to bake it in a casserole. Meat cooked long and slowly with the dish tightly closed must be tender, and, since none of the juices escape in steam, the savory qualities of the meat are kept to perfection.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

A Modern Columbus.

"You're all the world to me," he said. She softly murmured, "Sir, the wife to whom you once were wed—You said the same to her."

"Ah, yes," he gently sighed, "but, then, I pray you think me true. I change, as do so many men. The old world for the new!" —Judge.

A Sly One.

Miss Goodart—Bess seems like a nice girl. She has a good figure, hasn't she? Miss Chellus—Oh, no; but she makes up for it.—Philadelphia Press.

Before and After.

Denby—Dunn says he was first attracted by his wife's voice. Dyer—And now he's distracted by it.—Tarrytown (N. Y.) News.

THE FIRST OPEN CAR.

Adown the street at twilight I saw it swiftly dash. Light as a bird, with wheels that whirled And sharp electric flash;

It brought glad dreams of summer, And, as it sped afar, Across the town, I hurried down And caught that open car!

I swung up on the footboard, Eager to climb inside, Eager to be the first, you see, To take that summer ride.

Natural! I should say so! Too natural, I swear—Well, yes—I swore, for as of yore The End-Seat Hog was there! —Cleveland Leader.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Let there be no scandals in the building of the Panama canal.—Springfield Republican.

Not only shall we need a new set of geographies, but the books on military strategy will have to be blue pencilled somewhat.—Chicago News.

With 60,000 Americans a year settling in Canada, that country must soon begin to think more favorably of annexation.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Alimony is not a debt of honor, for a debt of honor is one which cannot be collected by law. It's a debt of disgrace and must be paid.—Sioux City Tribune.

Uncle Sam is dealing with two kinds of Indians in the Indian Territory—the real Indian, unknown in the east, and the picture Indian, unknown in the west.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL.

Mrs. Christine Ladd Franklin has begun a course of lectures on color vision at Johns Hopkins.

In almost every school in Japan it is the custom to take the pupils out rabbit hunting once a year.

Jacob H. Schiff has given $100,000 to Columbia university for the endowment of a chair of special work.

Wiley university, Marshall, Tex., through the mercy and help department of the Epworth league, is doing much to relieve suffering among the poor of the city.

President Faunce of Brown university declares that, while the freshmen of today know more than their fathers knew at the same age, they are inferior to their elders in logical strength, power of concentration and the faculty of sustained thought.

Farm Machinery.

Half a century ago grain was nearly all sown by hand, and it was one of the honors bestowed on an old laborer to give him this task. Today this is done automatically by a machine, and there are machines for laying on the manure and doing the work preparatory to sowing. So with grubbing, hoeing and cleaning the land—it is all done by improved appliances.
